Article - Environment

[Previous][Next]

§9–1302.

A well is considered to be abandoned if:

(1) It is in such a state of disrepair that its continued use for the purpose of obtaining ground water is impracticable; or

(2) It has been disconnected permanently from any water supply system or irrigation system.

[Previous][Next]