9. Description and Purpose of Grantee Organization
The National Great Blacks In Wax Museum opened in a storefront in downtown Baltimore in 1983. The Museum has become a prominent nationally recognized institution for the past 22 years. The Museum moved in 1988 to a renovated firehouse on North Avenue. The National Great Blacks In Wax Museum has attracted over 6million visitors over the last 22 years to a low income community of East Baltimore, transforming it into a premier tourist attraction for the State of Maryland. The Museum has 53% of its visitors coming from outside the State of Maryland. The Museum, therefore, is in a key position to lead the efforts to tap the cultural attraction potential as a major tourism magnet to strengthen and stabilize the surrounding neighborhood, build community identity and pride, and become a catalyst for economic and cultural development. The Great Blacks In Wax Museum received it's national designation from the United States Congress in June of 2004 and signed by President Bush on June 22, 2004. The National Great Blacks In Wax Museum currently features life like, life size exhibits that chronicle over five thousand years of African American history and achievements from Ancient Africa , Middle Passage, Slavery, Civil Rights Movement to modern times. The new expanded Museum will display over one hundred thousand years of history beginning with pre-historic Africa to modern times.

10. Description and Purpose of Project
