Maryland Condominium Act - Closed Meetings of Board of Directors

This bill alters the authority of a board of directors of a condominium council of unit owners to close a meeting. The bill (1) repeals a provision that authorizes a closed meeting by an individually recorded affirmative vote of two-thirds of the board members present, for an exception so compelling as to override the public policy in favor of open meetings; (2) allows a meeting to be closed to discuss individual owner assessment accounts; and (3) alters a current condition allowing closure to require that a consultation with legal counsel pertain to legal matters.

Fiscal Summary

State Effect: If the Consumer Protection Division of the Office of the Attorney General receives fewer than 50 complaints per year stemming from the bill, the additional workload can be handled with existing resources. No effect on revenues.

Local Effect: The bill does not directly affect local finances or operations.

Small Business Effect: None.

Analysis

Current Law: A meeting of the board of directors of a condominium council of unit owners, may be held in closed session only for:

- discussion of matters pertaining to employees and personnel;

- protection of the privacy or reputation of individuals in matters not related to the council of unit owners' business;
- consultation with legal counsel;
- consultation with staff personnel, consultants, attorneys, or other persons in connection with pending or potential litigation;
- investigative proceedings concerning criminal misconduct;
- compliance with a specific constitutional, statutory, or judicially imposed requirement that protects particular proceedings or matters from public disclosure; or
- on an individually recorded affirmative two-thirds vote of the board or committee members present, some other exceptional reason so compelling as to override the general public policy in favor of open meetings.

If a meeting is held in closed session for one of the aforementioned purposes, a statement of the time, place, and purpose of the meeting, the record of the vote of each board member to close the meeting, and the statutory authority for closing the meeting must be included in the minutes of the next meeting of the board of directors of the condominium council of unit owners.
