FISCAL AND POLICY NOTE

House Bill 1 (Delegate Love, et al.)
Ways and Means

Income Tax - Military Retirement Income

This bill expands the existing military retirement income subtraction modification by increasing from $5,000 to $10,000 the maximum amount of retirement income that can be excluded from the State income tax.

The bill takes effect July 1, 2012, and applies to tax years 2012 and beyond.

Fiscal Summary

State Effect: General fund revenues decrease by $12.2 million beginning in FY 2013 due to additional military retirement income being exempted. Future year revenues reflect the estimated number of eligible taxpayers. Expenditures are not affected.

($ in millions)	FY 2011	FY 2012	FY 2013	FY 2014	FY 2015
GF Revenue	$0	$0	($12.2)	($12.4)	($12.7)
Expenditure	0	0	0	0	0
Net Effect	$0	$0	($12.2)	($12.4)	($12.7)

Note:() = decrease; GF = general funds; FF = federal funds; SF = special funds; - = indeterminate effect Local Effect: Local government revenues decrease by $7.7 million in FY 2013 and by $8.0 million in FY 2015. Expenditures are not affected.

Small Business Effect: None.

Analysis

Current Law: Chapter 226 of 2006 expanded a $2,500 military retirement income subtraction that was limited to enlisted military members with a federal adjusted gross income of $22,500 or less. Under Chapter 226, an individual may exempt the first $5,000 of military retirement income from State taxation if the retirement income resulted from service in an active or reserve component of the armed forces of the United States or in the Maryland National Guard.

Under Chapter 226, retirees from active duty with the Commissioned Corps of the Public Health Service, National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), or the Coast and Geodetic Survey qualified for the subtraction modification, but only if separated from service after July 1, 1991. Chapter 553 of 2007 eliminated this restriction and allowed all the individuals described previously to qualify for the subtraction modification, beginning tax year 2007, without regard to the date of separation from employment.

Military retirement income exempted under this provision cannot be counted toward the State pension exclusion.

Maryland law also provides a pension exclusion subtraction for individuals who are at least age 65 or who are totally disabled. Up to a specified maximum amount of taxable pension income ($24,500 maximum for 2009) may be exempt from tax. The maximum exclusion allowed is indexed to the maximum annual benefit payable under the Social Security Act and is reduced by the amount of any Social Security payments received. The pension exclusion has been a part of the Maryland income tax since 1965.

The “Social Security offset” is the reduction in the maximum pension exclusion allowed under the current law by the individual. The Social Security offset was established at the same time as the pension exclusion. Given that Social Security benefits are exempt from Maryland income tax, the offset works to equalize the tax treatment of individuals who receive their retirement benefits from different sources by reducing the amount of allowable exclusion by the amount of Social Security benefits received.

Social Security benefits and benefits received under the federal Railroad Retirement Act are totally exempt from the Maryland income tax, even though they may be partly taxable for federal income tax purposes. In addition to the special treatment of Social Security and other retirement income, other income tax relief is provided to senior citizens regardless of the source of their income. Each individual age 65 or older can also earn more income without being required to file taxes. The additional exemption amount allowed for elderly or blind individuals is $1,000. This amount is in addition to the regular personal exemption available to all taxpayers.

Background: According to the Defense Manpower Data Center (DMDC), 47,045 military retirees received a total of $98.4 million in retirement income from the Department of Defense in September 2008. This includes individuals who served in the Army (including Maryland National Guard), Navy, Marines, and Air Force. On an annualized basis, the retirement income totaled approximately $1.2 billion. This amount includes some retirees who receive disability payments. Disability payments resulting from active service in the armed forces, NOAA, Public Health Service, or foreign service are not taxable for State income tax purposes because they are exempted from federal taxation. In addition, DMDC reports that 1,197 Coast Guard retirees and 6,623 military and Coast Guard survivors received retirement income (including disability pay) during 2008. Exhibit 1 lists the total retirement pay (including disability pay) received by Maryland military retirees by branch of service.

According to the Office of Commissioned Corps Force Management Information System, 762 Maryland residents who retired from the Commission Corps of the Public Health Service received a total of $52.1 million, or an average of $68,312, in retirement income during 2005.

State Revenues: Additional retirement income can be exempted beginning in tax year 2012. It is assumed that, due to the limited impact on tax liabilities, individuals do not adjust withholdings and estimated payments. As a result, fiscal 2013 revenues will decrease by $12.2 million. Exhibit 2 shows the projected State and local revenue loss from exempting additional military retirement income. This estimate is based on the number of retirees and amount of retirement income received by State residents as reported by DMDC and the Office of Commissioned Corps Force Management Information System, estimated cost of the current military retirement subtraction modification, and interaction with the State pension exclusion.

Local Fiscal Effect: Local government revenues decrease by 3% of the net change in State tax liability in tax year 2012 resulting from the provisions of the bill. In fiscal 2013, the decrease will total approximately $7.7 million. Exhibit 2 lists the local income tax revenue impact by fiscal year.
