The grantee organization is the John Hanson Memorial Association, Inc., a Maryland non-stock (non-profit) corporation incorporated in 2009 and granted tax-exempt status by the United States Internal Revenue Service the same year. The purposes of the John Hanson Memorial Association

Internal Revenue Service the same year. The purposes of the John Hanson Memorial Association are to memorialize John Hanson and his 1781-82 administration as the first president to serve under the Articles of Confederation, to give the nation a place to honor him by erecting the John Hanson National Memorial in Frederick, to broaden the knowledge of him everywhere, and to honor Jane Hanson as the first woman to serve in the role of what would come to be called First Lady.

11. Description and Purpose of Project (Limit Length to Visible area)

The John Hanson Memorial Association will construct a monument to Jane Hanson to be placed at her grave at Mount Olivet Cemetery in Frederick. The $70,000 project involves side-by-side busts of Jane and John Hanson, a granite pedestal and an interpretive plaque, and is being funded equally by private donations and a State matching grant. The Jane Hanson National Memorial is scheduled to be completed in 2013. Private donation fundraising begun December 1, 2012, is more than 50 percent complete.

Maryland's Jane Hanson was the wife of John Hanson, first president of the original United States government under the Articles of Confederation. As such, she was the nation's first First Lady though the title did not appear until the 1850s or become official until the 1930s. Titled or not, all presidential wives from Jane Hanson forward fulfilled the role of First Lady.

When she died in 1812, Jane was buried in the Hanson family crypt in the Episcopal graveyard in Frederick. When the church sold the graveyard in 1913, its 356 occupants were reinterred in nearby Mount Olivet Cemetery. The 70 with legible gravestones were reburied with their gravestones marking their new resting places. The 286 with illegible or no gravestones and those such as Jane who had been buried with unmarked coffins in family crypts were reinterred together anonymously in an unmarked mass grave and forgotten. In 2011, Remembering John Hanson biographer Peter Michael and Mount Olivet personnel rediscovered Jane's grave.

Comments:

Jane Hanson was born in Prince George's County in 1728, married John when she was 15 in 1743, moved from Mulberry Grove, the Hanson ances-tral estate in Charles County, to Frederick on the western Maryland frontier in 1769, lived with her husband in Philadelphia in the original presidential mansion during his 1781-82 term, and died at home in Frederick in 1812 at age 84. Jane Hanson was a widow the last 29 years of her life, and outlived 12 of her and John's 13 children. During Jane's lifetime, her nation was born, her husband served as its first president, one son occupied the top judicial position in Maryland and wrote The Laws of Maryland, two other sons sacrificed their lives in the Revolutionary War, the Constitution bolstered her country, importation of slaves was outlawed, her son and son-in-law were George Washington electors, a smallpox vaccine was discovered, a permanent national capital was established, the Treaty of Paris doubled the size of the nation, the Louisiana Purchase doubled it again, and Lewis and Clark mapped the continent all the way to its western ocean. Four years after her passing, her grandson would become a United States Senator.

The Maryland Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Business and Professional Women's Clubs of Maryland, several female members of the Maryland General Assembly, and other women in the state have expressed special interest in honoring Jane Hanson as the one Maryland woman who rose higher than any other during the Revolution-ary era. Though the title did not exist until the 1850s or become official until the 1930s, all presidential wives beginning with Jane Hanson fulfilled the demanding and honored role of the nation's First Lady. Maryland's Jane Hanson was in fact the nation's first First Lady. John and Jane Hanson were the only Marylanders ever to serve as President and First Lady.

Jane Hanson's husband, President John Hanson, is related to Maryland State Senator Thomas "Mac" Middleton of Charles County, former Maryland Speaker of the House John Hanson Briscoe, and John Hanson Memorial Association President Peter Hanson Michael.
