

Article - Family Law

[Previous][Next]

§7–104.

(a) In and of itself neither of the following is a defense to or a bar to a divorce:

- (1) an unaccepted offer of reconciliation by a spouse; or
- (2) a rejected attempt at reconciliation by a spouse.

(b) In and of itself neither of the following is a defense to, a bar to, or a ground for a divorce:

- (1) the refusal of a spouse to accept an offer of reconciliation made by the other spouse; or
- (2) the rejection by a spouse of an attempt at reconciliation made by the other spouse.

[Previous][Next]