Annotated Code of Maryland

(2014 Replacement Volume and 2016 Supplement)

Preamble

WHEREAS, In 2014, the State Department of Education estimated there were 5,338 students in Maryland public schools classified as having an intellectual disability, of which 947 were students between the ages of 18 and 21 years, nearing the age when they will be leaving high school; and

WHEREAS, Maryland students with intellectual and developmental disabilities lack access to higher education in Maryland despite their desire to attend college with their nondisabled peers because no inclusive higher education options exist in Maryland; and

WHEREAS, The development of an inclusive higher education program for students with intellectual and developmental disabilities would allow a student to attend an institution of higher education, pay tuition, and have access to undergraduate courses that support the student's desired outcomes and job aspirations; and

WHEREAS, Only 32% of adults with an intellectual disability between the ages of 20 and 30 years are employed compared to 74% of people without disabilities; and

WHEREAS, Inclusive higher education programs in other states have been proven to significantly increase rates of employment for people with an intellectual disability; and

WHEREAS, Data from existing programs in other states shows that 77% of students with an intellectual disability who attend college receive a credential and 41% leave with a meaningful job; and

WHEREAS, Opportunities for inclusive higher education exist in 31 other states, but not in Maryland; now, therefore,
