Section 7–103(g)
Annotated Code of Maryland
(2018 Replacement Volume and 2019 Supplement)

Preamble

WHEREAS, The Labor Day holiday weekend is an exclusively American institution that has served, both symbolically and practically, as our nation’s traditional end of summer; and

WHEREAS, Generations of American workers and families have celebrated this rite of seasonal passage, and the days that precede it, with vacations, day trips, or other preferred opportunities to relax and enjoy time with family and friends; and

WHEREAS, The policy of constructing the public elementary and secondary school calendars so that classes begin before the Labor Day holiday has imperiled this venerable tradition; and

EXPLANATION: CAPITALS INDICATE MATTER ADDED TO EXISTING LAW.
[Brackets] indicate matter deleted from existing law.
WHEREAS, This policy has placed a significant competitive burden on Maryland’s economy and many of its leading sectors, from agriculture to tourism and hospitality; and

WHEREAS, This policy imposes an unacceptable public health and safety risk on the students, teachers, and education employees who are required to report, in the second hottest month of the calendar year, to schools that lack air conditioning; and

WHEREAS, The State has a particularly compelling interest in safeguarding the physical and psychological well-being of minors; and

WHEREAS, The Maryland General Assembly convened the Task Force to Study a Post–Labor Day Start Date for Maryland Public Schools in 2013 to conduct a thorough examination of the academic, administrative, and economic implications associated with a post–Labor Day start to the school year; and

WHEREAS, The Task Force, led by the Maryland State Department of Education, included teachers, administrators, and business and civic leaders, and (1) recognized the substantial economic benefits of a post–Labor Day start, (2) found neither adverse academic consequences nor intractable administrative barriers to the adoption of such a policy, and (3) voted overwhelmingly to endorse this reform to Maryland’s public school calendars by moving the school start date to after Labor Day; and

WHEREAS, Starting school after Labor Day will provide public health benefits by reducing the local ozone generation numbers due to fewer buses operating on the roadways during the heart of the ozone season; now, therefore,
