Analysis

Current Law/Background: Article III of the Maryland Constitution sets forth requirements for State legislative districts and procedures for legislative redistricting. The boundaries of the State's 47 legislative districts must be redrawn after each decennial census to adjust for population changes. State legislative districts must consist of adjoining territory, be compact in form, and be of substantially equal population. Additionally, due regard must be given to natural boundaries and the boundaries of political subdivisions. Legislative districts may be subdivided into single-member and/or multi-member districts for the purpose of electing delegates. Chapters 66 and 67 of 2010 address the allocation of the State's prison population among legislative districts.

State legislative boundaries are also governed by the U.S. Constitution, the Voting Rights Act of 1965, and applicable case law. State legislative districts must be “substantially equal in population.” Reynolds v. Sims 377 U.S. 533 (1964).
