Hello, My Name is Jennifer Harvey and I own and operate a Daycare Center in Catonsville MD. I have spent the last few years on a journey hands on with one of my Students who presented with many odd symptoms and behaviors . I have spent this time Teaming with his parents and a team of Doctors, Teacher and Specialist to try and find what was causing this young man such pain and turmoil in his life . After much testing and many visits and evaluations it was discovered he had PANDAS. Some doctors still don't consider this a true diagnosis but I can attest to the fact that since this child has been medicated and properly treated by his team of Doctors and therapies that he went from a young man who clearly did not fit in with his peers to a child who still struggles but now has friends , learns , shares his feelings , strives to attain goals and works hard to meet them. My heart went out to a little guy who had been in many daycares before mine and once he was with me I was determined to help him . Please help these children and require the Insurance Companies to cover their costs and needs . Help these children meet their true potential and receive they so richly deserve .
