Senate Bill 828 – Family Medical Leave Act - Modification

SUPPORT

SEIU Local 500 represents over 20,000 working people in Maryland, Washington D.C., and Virginia. Our union represents the support staff at the Montgomery County Public School system, Family Child Care Providers, Faculty and Staff at several Maryland colleges and universities, staff at non-profits and many other working people across the region. We urge a FAVORABLE report on SB 828.

THE SPLIT – We also support the amendments that the Sponsor will be offering that would codify into law the split of the contribution to be 50/50. There is a symmetry and balance in a 50/50 split of costs for the program between workers and employers which no other numbers can match. Some make the argument that since the workers are the beneficiaries of the program, they should pay for it, and if not 100%, then 75% is surely reasonable. We reject this argument and ask you to do the same. Wages or pay increases are an obvious benefit from employment, but it would be absurd for workers to pay for their own raises.

Others may say employers ought to pay 100% of the costs. We are tempted to accept this logic, especially since our closest neighbor, the District of Columbia, has a similar program where employers do pay 100% of premiums. However, we recognize political and legislative reality, and knowing the split what states who have recently passed similar laws have done, a 50/50 split is reasonable. We are proud to say we were early supporters of The Time to Care Act. After several years of trying, we were successful in getting the 2022 Session of the General Assembly to pass it and to override then-Governor Hogan's veto of this incredibly popular approach to dealing with workers' and employers' needs to balance work, personal health, and families. We commend all those legislators who had the courage to stand up for the legislation. We must take note that all legislators who voted for The Time to Care law were re-elected by the voters.

In 1993 President Bill Clinton signed into law, the Family & Medical Leave Act. It was a hallmark of his first term. However, most workers could not afford to take advantage of the law since they could not go without a regular paycheck. Over the last several years, many states recognized this need, and since the federal government will not or cannot address this issue at their level, acted. Now, Maryland joins more than 10 states and our neighbors in the District of Columbia in enacting Paid Family & Medical Leave legislation. Its been a long time coming, but as someone once said, it's never too late to do the right thing. This is the right thing.

We salute Senator Hayes for his indefatigable efforts to pass the bill last year and his continued diligence to get the job done this session.

ADMINISTRATION – An unanswered question is “Who will run this program?”. Some with argue that given the recent disastrous management of the Unemployment Insurance program, state government and least of all the Department of Labor should be running the program. This argument ignores what Governor Moore has made a cornerstone of his administration. You can't expect government to function properly and serve the needs of the people if you do not staff the departments adequately. His budget reflects what been ignored for too long – we need to staff up state government to meet Maryland's needs.

We strongly urge you to develop the expertise of direct government employees and hold them and state managers accountable. For those who may believe that outsourcing these services is somehow like spreading magical pixie dust on the issue, we direct you to the Connecticut experience with their FMLA. It was not good.

Lobbyists have been hired by companies to laud their experience and expertise on these programs, but no matter how many ads they run or how loud they quack, direct government workers have a much better track record on this issue in performance and accountability than their for-profit counterparts. Why shouldn't Maryland develop the expertise to be the best?
Thank you.

We ask a FAVORABLE REPORT on Senate Bill 828 SB 828
