
MARYLAND DEPARTMENT OF LABOR LETTER OF INFORMATION ON HB1021.

TO: Senate Finance Committee
FROM: Todd Blackstone, Executive Director, MREAH
DATE: March 25, 2025
BILL: HB1021- Real Estate Appraisers - Licensure and Certification - Qualifications

House Bill 1021 prohibits the State Commission of Real Estate Appraisers, Appraisal Management Companies, and Home Inspectors from requiring an applicant to hold a bachelor's degree or higher to qualify for a certain certification or licensure as a real estate appraiser.

Educational criteria for appraisal licensure are established by the Appraisal Foundation (AF) which has federal oversight authority over all state appraisal licensing programs. The AF requires that all candidates for the highest level appraisal classification, which is the Certified General classification, must have a bachelor's degree from an accredited college. HB 1021 retains the ability for MD Labor and the Commission to require a bachelor's degree for Certified General, as is required by the Appraiser Qualifications Board, but prohibits MD Labor and the Commission from ever requiring a degree for Licensed Residential or Certified Residential.

Currently, a bachelors or 4 year college degree is only required for the highest appraiser level, Certified General. A bachelor's or 4 year degree is not currently required for a Licensed Appraiser, a Certified Residential Appraiser, or a Home Inspector.
