

HB524: State Board of Education-Membership-Early Childhood Development Professional

Testimony “In Favor”

My name is Cindi Webb and I am a proud advocate for early childhood education and small business. I currently own Frederick Country Day Montessori School and The Learning Bee, a preschool and childcare center. My businesses have been serving Frederick County since 2007. In addition, I do real estate vacation rentals and I am a John Maxwell coach. I am a mother of 5, grandmother to 2 and my husband and I were foster parents to 23 children, two of whom we were blessed to adopt. Educating, guiding and caring for children is my passion and mission.

I think we can all agree that Early childhood, from birth to age five, is recognized as a critical period for cognitive, social, and emotional development. Investing in quality early education during these formative years lays a strong foundation for future success. Research shows that 90% of a child's brain develops by age five, forming the neural connections essential for future learning.

Beyond my mission, I am a dedicated business owner and a vital contributor to our economy. I have worked tirelessly to build a high-quality program that currently serves approximately 225 families and has impacted thousands over the years. Unfortunately, decisions—whether intentional or not—have had negative consequences on my business and others in the early education field.

It is essential that for-profit early childhood education centers have a voice. This is not just logical; it is practical. When decisions are made without considering the needs of small businesses, we are left scrambling to protect our livelihoods and advocate for necessary changes—many of which could have been avoided with our input from the start. MSCCA has been instrumental in being our voice for change.

For example, the Blueprint Mixed Delivery System is critical for the survival of small childcare providers. Without it, most of us would be forced to close. Without three- and four-year-olds in our programs, we simply wouldn't have the resources to sustain our businesses. The economic impact of losing childcare centers would be devastating—leaving families without options for infant, toddler, and two-year-old care.

We also fought for changes to the lead teacher requirements for Pre-K expansion and Blueprint grant programs. Initially, childcare providers were excluded because our teachers do not hold MSDE state teaching certifications. We had to actively lobby for this requirement to be reconsidered. If we had been included in the conversation from the beginning, unnecessary obstacles could have been avoided, saving time, money, and resources—ultimately benefiting children and families in our communities.

Please support giving us a voice, ensuring small businesses are heard and our communities thrive.
