Operating Budget Analysis

Program Description

The Attorney General (AG) acts as legal counsel to the Governor, General Assembly, Judiciary, and all departments, boards, and commissions (except the Commission on Human Relations, Public Service Commission, and State Ethics Commission). The Office of the Attorney General (OAG) represents the State in all matters of interest to the State, including civil litigation and criminal appeals in all State and federal courts. The office also reviews legislation passed by the General Assembly prior to consideration by the Governor. The office is supported by 11 divisions: Legal Counsel and Advice; Securities; Consumer Protection; Antitrust; Medicaid Fraud Control; Civil Litigation; Criminal Appeals; Criminal Investigations; Educational Affairs; Correctional Litigation; and Contract Litigation.

The office also provides assistant attorneys general and staff attorneys to State agencies. The positions are in the agency budgets, rather than in the budget of the AG. Appendix 4 provides a breakdown of assistant attorneys by agency.

Performance Analysis: Managing for Results

The Managing for Results (MFR) analysis is less meaningful for the OAG than other State agencies because of what the agency does. In civil and criminal litigation, each case is different; the OAG is generally reacting to events and issues over which it has little control.

OAG is proactive in consumer protection and antitrust matters. The MFR key indicators in Exhibit 1 indicate a reduction in arbitration issues. Cost containment actions in fiscal 2003 most heavily impacted the consumer protection division except for the Maryland Insurance Administration (MIA) funded Health Appeals Unit (HAU). HAU is not impacted by cost containment action. This unit handles cases where an individual is denied coverage under a health insurance policy for a medically necessary procedure, and the individual has exhausted the carrier's internal grievance process. HAU attempts to mediate the issue and if unsuccessful, assists in bringing the complaint before MIA for an administrative hearing to resolve the issue. Activity of HAU is well under what was projected when the legislation was enacted in 1998. However, after two years in which HAU handled approximately 900 appeals, the unit handled 1,366 appeals in fiscal 2002. This would seem to indicate that health carriers are once again aggressively denying medical procedures to control costs.

Fiscal 2003 Actions

Cost containment action, approved by the Board of Public Works on January 8, 2003, reduces the OAG budget by $622,151 as noted in Exhibit 2. Fiscal 2003 cost containment reflects the reversion of appropriations to support free transit ridership for State employees, contingent upon enactment of a provision in the Budget Reconciliation and Financing Act of 2003.

Impact of Cost Containment

OAG has targeted reductions in the following programs: Legal Counsel and Advice ($91,832), Consumer Protection Division ($414,422), criminal investigations ($40,262), and Educational Affairs ($75,635). All but $40,139 of the reduction is in salaries, with the Consumer Protection Division taking $406,990 of the salary reduction. Consumer protection investigations not funded by MIA will be impacted. The OAG receives $549,360 from MIA to support HAU. HAU mediates patient care disputes regarding the medical necessity of a particular procedure and the willingness of managed care or HMO carriers to cover the medical procedure. All consumer protection programs, except for HAU, will be adversely impacted. Therefore, OAG will be less proactive on consumer protection issues. Currently, OAG has 24.6 vacant positions and a vacancy rate of 9.44% compared with a budgeted vacancy rate of

C81C - Office of the Attorney General

5.69 %. The AG has a limited budget for equipment and other operating expenses. Therefore, there is limited ability to defer equipment purchases and reduce operating expenses to meet budget reductions.

Governor’s Proposed Budget

The Governor’s proposed fiscal 2004 allowance, as indicated in Exhibit 2, reflects an overall increase of $71,000. The overall impact on the general fund budget is an increase of $869,000 if the impact of the latest round of fiscal 2003 reductions is not continued in fiscal 2004. Without the latest round of reductions, the OAG budget would have decreased by $472,192 and increased $309,215 in general funds as indicated in Appendix 1 and 2. The fiscal 2004 allowance also reflects a significant $524,000 decrease in the salary base to reflect budgeting of vacant positions at the salary base.

The significant increase is the $460,000 for employee health benefits. The $40,000 miscellaneous adjustment was added to the Contract Litigation Division to offset a turnover expectancy reduction calculation in the Contract Litigation Division. It should be noted that the salary of the AG is increased from $100,000 to $112,500 in January 2003, and $116,667 next January 2004. The 2002 Budget Reconciliation and Financing Act approved increases for the constitutional officers for each year of the term of office.

Impact of Cost Containment

The fiscal 2004 allowance reflects the elimination of the appropriation for matching employee deferred compensation (401k) contributions up to $600, contingent upon enactment of a provision in the Budget Reconciliation and Financing Act of 2003.

C81C - Office of the Attorney General

If the personnel cost containment actions for fiscal 2003 are not continued in fiscal 2004, salaries will be increased $582,000 if the vacant positions are filled.

Cigarette Restitution Case – Peter G. Angelos Settlement

Contract legal expenses decrease $936,979 in fiscal 2004. The significant item is the fiscal 2003 settlement of the State's litigation with Peter G. Angelos who represented the State in the cigarette restitution case. The fiscal 2003 expenditure included $850,000 from the Cigarette Restitution Fund State Reserve account to pay expenses for outside counsel of the litigation with Peter G. Angelos.

Fiscal 2002 Amendments

The special fund budget amendments for $239,752 consist of two amendments to provide funds to the Consumer Protection Division and to operate the Home Builder Registration Unit from registration fees of homebuilders. The OAG receives reimbursable funds from MIA for the Consumer Protection Division to support HAU. The Department of General Services, the Maryland Department of Transportation, and the University of Maryland provide funds to support the contract litigation unit. An information technology (IT) application to make on-line processing of complaints in the OAG compatible with the web-enabled MIA complaints tracking system was not implemented as planned in fiscal 2002. Contract litigation expenses were less than anticipated.

General fund amendments included a $71,000 reduction for cost containment and $98,404 in amendments for telephone expenses ($44,088) and litigation associated with legislative redistricting ($54,316). The Department of Budget and Management (DBM) had underbudgeted telephone charges for the DBM-administered telephone system.

Fiscal 2003 Amendments

The general fund amendments anticipate $622,000 for the cost containment reduction discussed earlier, approved by the Board of Public Works on January 8, 2003, and a reduction of $13,459 for the transit subsidy.

The special fund budget amendment for $850,000 is for outside counsel expenses associated with the Peter G. Angelos litigation concerning the fee that Mr. Angelos would receive for his work in the cigarette restitution case. The actual budget amendment is for $863,280 with $13,280 going into the Advice and Counsel Program budget of the OAG. Due to a data entry error, this was not added to the program, and the adjusted working appropriation for fiscal 2003 does not reflect this amendment.

Tobacco Litigation:

As a result of the Master Settlement Agreement in the States' tobacco litigation, Maryland has received $488.3 million to date; expects to receive approximately $180 million in fiscal year 2003, and will receive approximately $4.4 billion dollars over the next twenty years. The State settled the attorneys' fees litigation against the Law Offices of Peter G. Angelos for $150 million, to be paid over five years. This will be offset by the additional $132 million the State will receive over the next twenty years awarded from the Tobacco Attorneys' Fees Arbitration Panel.

Cases with Important Nonmonetary Issues:

Virginia v. Maryland - As a result of Maryland's initial denial of a permit to Fairfax County to build a water intake pipe into the center of the Potomac River, Virginia has challenged Maryland's regulatory authority over Virginia citizens' activities in the Potomac River in an original jurisdiction action in the Supreme Court.
