FISCAL NOTE

Senate Bill 133 (Senator Lawlah)
Budget and Taxation

Prince George's County - Public School Construction - Funding

This bill requires the State contribution for school construction projects in Prince George's County to total at least $20 million annually for fiscal 1998 and 1999.

This bill takes effect June 1, 1997.

Fiscal Summary

State Effect: Indeterminate effect on State expenditures. Revenues would not be affected.

Local Effect: Indeterminate effect on State aid to local governments.

Small Business Effect: None. Small businesses would not be directly affected.

Fiscal Analysis

State Effect: The fiscal 1998 State capital budget includes $138.4 million for school construction projects. As of December 17, 1996, approximately $72.5 million of the fiscal 1998 school construction allowance has been awarded to the 24 local boards of education. Of this amount, Prince George's County received $7.8 million, representing 11% of total funds available. Pursuant to this legislation, Prince George's County would receive an additional $12,158,000 in school construction funding over the amount already allocated. Unless the State provides additional funding to the school construction program, Prince George's County would have to receive over 18% of the remaining $65.9 million in the State school construction budget that is awaiting to be allocated to the local boards.

Local Effect: In the last seven years, as illustrated in Exhibit 1, Prince George’s County received over $61 million in State school construction aid, with the largest amount ($11.2 million) occurring in fiscal 1996. This bill requires the State to provide Prince George’s County with at least $20 million in State school construction funding in fiscal 1998 and fiscal 1999. As shown in Exhibit 2, the $20 million in State school construction aid would equal the amount requested by the Prince George’s County Board of Education. In order to fund the requests for all the local boards of education, the State would have to increase the capital budget by $171.5 million. Assuming the Board of Public Works was not intending to grant Prince George’s County $20 million in school construction funding absent this bill, this bill could result in a decrease in funding for the other local boards of education, unless the State increases the total amount of school construction funding.
