Senate Bill 194 (Senator Kellev. et al.)

Judicial Proceedings

Family Law - Grounds for Absolute Divorce - Domestic Violence

This bill adds “cruelty of treatment toward the complaining party, if there is no reasonable expectation of reconciliation” and “excessively vicious conduct toward the complaining party, if there is no reasonable expectation of reconciliation,” to the grounds for which a court may decree an absolute divorce. Under current law, an absolute divorce may be granted on the grounds of: (1) adultery; (2) desertion; (3) voluntary separation; (4) conviction of a felony or misdemeanor; (5) a two-year separation; or (6) insanity.
