Fiscal Analysis

State Expenditures: It is assumed that any additional confinements in Anne Arundel County resulting from this bill, as a condition of probation before judgment, would be less than one year. Persons serving a sentence of one year or less are sentenced to a local detention facility.

The State reimburses counties for part of their per diem rate after a person has served 90 days. State per diem reimbursements for fiscal 1999 are estimated to range from $12 to $42 per inmate depending upon the jurisdiction. Persons sentenced to such a term in Baltimore City are generally incarcerated in a Division of Correction (DOC) facility, with an average monthly cost estimated at $1,500 for fiscal 1999. [The Baltimore City Detention Center (BCDC), a State operated facility, is used primarily for pretrial detentions. The per diem cost for BCDC in fiscal 1999 is estimated at $43 per inmate.]

Accordingly, general fund expenditures could increase as a result of additional confinements at the local detention center in Anne Arundel County and increased State payments for reimbursement of inmate costs, depending on the number of times such a sentence of confinement is imposed. However, the number of additional confinements resulting from this bill is assumed to be minimal. Anne Arundel County reports that fewer than 100 probations before judgement are granted in most years.

Local Expenditures: Expenditures could increase as a result of additional confinements depending upon the number of convictions and sentences imposed. Counties pay the full cost of incarceration for people in their facilities for the first 90 days of the sentence, plus part of the per diem cost after 90 days. The per diem operating cost of the Anne Arundel County detention facility is approximately $57 per inmate in fiscal 1999.
