House Bill 262 (Delegate Gordon. et al.)

Ways and Means

Property Tax Credit - Vacant or Underutilized Commercial Buildings

This bill allows a county or municipality to grant a partial or full corporation property tax credit for a vacant or underutilized building if the building was built primarily for commercial purposes, was last used for commercial purposes, and has been renovated to be used primarily as housing.

Fiscal Summary

State Effect: None. The bill does not affect the State property tax rate.

Local Effect: Potential indeterminate decrease in county and municipality real property tax revenues.

Small Business Effect: Potential minimal. The benefit for small businesses depends on the degree of their participation in the program and the small number of these properties, but it is assumed to be minimal.

Fiscal Analysis

Local Revenues: The magnitude of any decrease in property tax revenues depends on the extent to which the counties and municipalities decide to grant this credit and the number of buildings that would qualify. Accordingly, the bill's effect on revenues cannot be reliably estimated at this time. However, for illustrative purposes, the Town of Indian Head advises that there are approximately 10 major commercial properties with an approximate assessment value of $1.4 million that could qualify for this credit. If the town decided to grant this credit, it could decrease the town's revenues by $9,689. On the other hand, Baltimore City advises that this bill would not affect its revenues because the vast majority of the commercial buildings that would be potentially converted to housing would already be covered by Chapter 615 of 1998, which provided an exemption from county property taxes imposed on vacant and underutilized commercial buildings under a development plan. Prince George's County and Montgomery County advise that if they decide to grant this credit, they could experience a minimal revenue loss.
