Analysis

Current Law: The annual salary for two associate judges for the Baltimore City Orphans' Court is $55,000 and the chief judge $65,000. Compensation and allowances for an orphans' court judge are set by statute and vary greatly across the State. The current salaries are listed by county below:

- Allegany County – salary set by the county commissioners;
- Anne Arundel County – $19,000, with an additional $500 for the chief judge;
- Baltimore City – $55,000 for associate judges, $65,000 for the chief judge;

- Baltimore County – $39,000 for associate judges, $39,500 for the chief judge;
- Calvert County – $7,750 for associate judges, $7,950 for the chief judge;
- Caroline County – $4,500 for each judge;
- Carroll County – $10,000 for each judge;
- Cecil County – $ 5,500 for each judge;
- Charles County – $7,000 for each judge;
- Dorchester County – $3,500 for each judge;
- Frederick County – $6,000 for associate judges, $6,500 for the chief judge;
- Garrett County – salary set by the county commissioners;
- Howard County – $8,000 for associate judges, $9,500 for the chief judge;
- Kent County – $4,000 for each judge;
- Prince George’s County – $36,500 for associate judges, $37,000 for the chief judge;
- Queen Anne’s County – salary set by the county commissioners;
- St. Mary’s County – $4,000 for each judge;
- Somerset County – $1,700 for associate judges, $1,900 for the chief judge;
- Talbot County – salary set by the county council;
- Washington County – $7,000 for each judge;
- Wicomico County – $3,200 for each judge; and
- Worcester County – set by county commissioners, but not less than $30 a day for each day spent attending court sessions.

In addition, many of the orphans’ court judges also receive allowances for travel and other expenses.

Background: An orphans’ court is a probate court. Orphans’ court judges are elected to serve four-year terms during the statewide election. Each county, other than Harford and Montgomery counties, has three judges sitting on its orphans’ court. In Harford and Montgomery counties, circuit court judges preside in orphans’ court. The chief judge of each county is appointed by the Governor. An orphans’ court may establish that a will is valid, administer an estate, and direct the conduct of an executor of an estate.

The last time salaries for the Baltimore City Orphans’ Court judges were increased was 2002 (Chapter 281). At that time the salary for each associate judge was raised from $50,000 to $55,000 annually and the salary for the chief judge was raised from $60,000 to $65,000 annually.

Local Fiscal Effect: Salary expenditures would increase by $11,250 in fiscal 2007 for six months of salaries for all three judges beginning with the next term of office. Starting in fiscal 2008, salary expenditures would increase annually by $22,500.
