FISCAL AND POLICY NOTE

House Bill 660 Judiciary (Delegate Sophocleus, et al.)

Criminal Law - Use of Firearm in Commission of Crime

This bill makes it a misdemeanor to use any firearm, rather than any handgun or antique firearm capable of being concealed on the person, in the commission of a crime of violence or a felony, whether or not the firearm is operable at the time of the crime.

The bill's provisions are applied prospectively only.

Fiscal Summary

State Effect: Minimal increase in general fund expenditures due to the bill's expanded application of the crime of use of a firearm in the commission of a crime and its attendant mandatory minimum sentence. Revenues would not be affected.

Local Effect: None.

Small Business Effect: None.

Analysis

Current Law: A person may not use an antique firearm capable of being concealed on the person or any handgun in the commission of a crime of violence or any felony, whether the antique firearm or handgun is operable or inoperable at the time of the crime. A violator is guilty of a misdemeanor and, in addition to any other penalty imposed for the crime of violence or felony, must be sentenced to imprisonment for not less than 5 years and not exceeding 20 years. Except for provisions governing release from the Patuxent Institution, the person is not eligible for parole in less than five years.

"Antique firearm" means: (1) a firearm, including a firearm with a matchlock, flintlock, percussion cap, or similar ignition system, manufactured before 1899; or (2) a replica of such a firearm that is not designed or redesigned to use rimfire or conventional centerfire fixed ammunition, or uses rimfire or conventional centerfire fixed ammunition that is no longer manufactured in the United States and is not readily available in the ordinary channels of commercial trade.

"Handgun" means a pistol, revolver, or other firearm capable of being concealed on the person. Handgun includes a short-barreled shotgun and a short-barreled rifle. Handgun does not include a shotgun, rifle, or antique firearm.

State Expenditures: In fiscal 2005, the Division of Correction (DOC) had an intake of 524 persons with a handgun violation and, for 152 of those persons, the handgun violation was the most serious offense. The average time served for the 152 persons is expected to be 53 months. However, the extent to which this bill's changes may increase firearm prosecutions and DOC's annual intake is unknown for two reasons: (1) prosecutors have wide discretion to actually bring charges for specific statutory offenses; and (2) actual prosecutions by the U.S. Attorney in federal court for gun cases arising in Baltimore City and Prince George's County, sending convicted persons to federal prisons, may significantly reduce State and local costs associated with such offenses.

General fund expenditures could increase minimally as a result of the bill's expanded application of the crime of use of a firearm in the commission of a crime due to more people being committed to DOC facilities for mandatory minimum sentences. The additional number of people sentenced under these provisions is expected to be minimal.

Persons serving a sentence longer than 18 months are incarcerated in DOC facilities. Currently, the average total cost per inmate, including overhead, is estimated at $1,974 per month. This bill alone, however, should not create the need for additional beds, personnel, or facilities. Excluding overhead, the average cost of housing a new DOC inmate (including medical care and variable costs) is $341 per month. Excluding medical care, the average variable costs total $134 per month.
