Election Law - Campaign Account - Debit Card Disbursements

This bill allows a campaign finance entity to make a disbursement by debit card from a designated campaign account.

The bill takes effect July 1, 2007.

Fiscal Summary

State Effect: Any cost to change campaign finance report electronic filing software would be minimal and could be handled with existing resources.

Local Effect: None.

Small Business Effect: None.

Analysis

Current Law: A campaign finance entity generally may not directly or indirectly make a disbursement except by check from a designated campaign account. However, a campaign finance entity or individual authorized by the entity may pay an expense of the entity from funds other than the campaign account if: (1) the expense is supported by a receipt provided to the campaign finance entity; and (2) the campaign finance entity reimburses the person who paid the expense by check from the campaign account and reports the expense as an expenditure of the campaign.

Background: An increasing number of vendors no longer accept paper checks for payment. Currently, check card, credit card, or debit card expenditures are made for a campaign by individuals, who are then reimbursed by check from the campaign account.

Additional Information
