FISCAL AND POLICY NOTE

Senate Bill 666 (Senator McFadden, et al.)
 Budget and Taxation

Income Tax Credit for Graduate Level Education - Nonpublic School Teachers

This bill expands the existing quality teacher incentive tax credit to certified nonpublic school teachers. The amount of the proposed credit is up to $1,500 of the graduate-school tuition paid by the individual that is not otherwise reimbursed by the teacher’s employer during the year. In order to qualify for the tax credit, the nonpublic school teacher must either be: (1) registered with the State Board of Education; or (2) employed by a nonpublic school that holds a certificate of approval from the State.

The bill takes effect July 1, 2007 and applies to tax year 2007 and beyond.

Fiscal Summary

State Effect: General fund revenues would decrease by $1.7 million in FY 2008. Out-year losses reflect the estimated number of qualifying nonpublic school teachers and 2.5% annual increase in amount of credit claimed. Expenditures would not be affected.

($ in millions)	FY 2008	FY 2009	FY 2010	FY 2011	FY 2012

Analysis

Current Law: Public school teachers who pay tuition during the tax year for graduate-level courses to maintain either a standard professional or advanced professional certification may be entitled to an income tax credit. An individual must be employed by a local board of education and be a classroom teacher in a public school, hold a standard professional certificate or an advanced professional certificate, and have completed the graduate-level courses with a grade of B or better. The courses taken must be required to maintain certification and the cost of the courses must exceed any amount reimbursed by the county. The credit is 100% of the unreimbursed amount of tuition paid, or $1,500, whichever is less. A credit of up to $1,500 is allowed for each individual. On a joint return, up to $3,000 is allowed if each spouse qualifies for the credit.

Background: The Quality Teacher Incentive Act of 1999 established the quality teacher incentive tax credit. Exhibit 1 lists the amount of credits that were claimed in tax years 2003 through 2005.

Exhibit 1
Quality Teacher Incentive Tax Credits
Tax Years 2003-2005

Year	Claimants	Total	Average	% of Total Certified Teachers Claiming Credit Each Year
2003	6,890	$5,968,262	$866	19.7%
2004	7,249	6,482,570	894	20.2%
2005	7,898	7,092,404	898	22.7%

The Act also contained several other measures designed to increase the number of public school teachers who have a standard or advanced professional certification. Nonpublic schools are not subject to the provisions of the Act.

State Revenues: The bill would expand the existing tax credit effective tax year 2007. As a result, general fund revenues would decrease by $1.7 million in fiscal 2008. Future year losses reflect the estimated number of eligible nonpublic school teachers. This estimate is based on the following facts and assumptions:

- Based on data from the National Center for Education Statistics and Maryland State Department of Education (MSDE), there were 13,100 nonpublic school teachers in Maryland in the 2004-2005 school year. The number of teachers is estimated to increase by 0.9% annually.

- MSDE estimates that 65% of teachers in the Archdiocese of Baltimore are certified. MSDE advised that it could not reliably estimate the percentage of all nonpublic teachers who are certified. It is assumed that teachers in other nonpublic schools in the State have the same rate of certification.
- An estimated 20% of certified public school teachers claimed the existing credit in tax year 2003 through 2005.
- The average credit claimed per teacher is estimated at $943 in tax year 2006, with the amount in future years increasing by 2.5% annually.
