Analysis

Current Law: A person may not carry or possess a firearm, knife, or deadly weapon of any kind on public school property. A violator is guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to maximum penalties of three years imprisonment and/or a $1,000 fine. A person who is convicted of carrying or possessing a handgun in violation of this prohibition must be sentenced under the penalty provisions applicable to handgun violations.

The prohibition does not apply to an on-duty law enforcement officer, a public school property guard hired by a county board of education, a person engaged in organized shooting activity for educational purposes, or other specified historical activities with an educational purpose with a written invitation from the school principal.

Handgun prohibitions pertain to wearing, carrying, or transporting a handgun; the use of a handgun or antique firearm in the commission of a crime; and possession of a firearm at a public demonstration. Violators are guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to penalties ranging from 30 days to 10 years imprisonment, depending on the nature of the offense and whether there have been any prior violations by the offender. Most of the violations are subject to mandatory minimum sentencing. (See Criminal Law Article, § 4-201 through 4-208.)

State Revenues: General fund revenues may increase minimally as a result of the bill's monetary penalty provision from cases heard in the District Court.

State Expenditures: General fund expenditures may increase minimally as a result of the bill's incarceration penalty due to more people being committed to Division of Correction (DOC) facilities and increased payments to counties for reimbursement of inmate costs. The number of people convicted of these proposed crimes is expected to be minimal.

Persons serving a sentence longer than 18 months are incarcerated in DOC facilities. Currently, the average total cost per inmate, including overhead, is estimated at $2,600 per month. This bill alone, however, should not create the need for additional beds, personnel, or facilities. Excluding overhead, the average cost of housing a new DOC inmate (including variable medical care and variable operating costs) is $342 per month. Excluding all medical care, the average variable costs total $164 per month.

Persons serving a sentence of one year or less in a jurisdiction other than Baltimore City are sentenced to local detention facilities. For persons sentenced to a term of between 12 and 18 months, the sentencing judge has the discretion to order that the sentence be served at a local facility or DOC. The State reimburses counties for part of their incarceration costs, on a per diem basis, after a person has served 90 days. State per diem reimbursements for fiscal 2010 are estimated to range from $23 to $71 per inmate depending upon the jurisdiction. Persons sentenced to such a term in Baltimore City are generally incarcerated in DOC facilities. The Baltimore City Detention Center, a State-operated facility, is used primarily for pretrial detentions.

Local Revenues: Revenues may increase minimally as a result of the bill's monetary penalty provision from cases heard in the circuit courts.

Local Expenditures: Expenditures may increase minimally as a result of the bill's incarceration penalty. Counties pay the full cost of incarceration for people in their facilities for the first 90 days of the sentence, plus part of the per diem cost after 90 days. Per diem operating costs of local detention facilities are expected to range from $46 to $141 per inmate in fiscal 2010.
