The information provided is to the best of my knowledge. There was a grant to the Carroll Baldwin Hall, I believe in the 1970's, but I was not involved then and do not know the particulars of that grant. I believe that most of that grant was used to handicapped accessibility, including a new bathroom on the main floor. The property is under an historic easement agreement with the Maryland Historic Trust, and all proposed work on the building is subject to their approval. The main room portion of the upper floor is rented to individuals from the community on an hourly basis for events such as parties, small concerts, etc.
