State Government - Sickle Cell Anemia Awareness Month

---

This bill requires the Governor to annually proclaim the month of September as Sickle Cell Anemia Awareness Month.

The bill takes effect July 1, 2011.

Fiscal Summary

State Effect: Commemorating Sickle Cell Anemia Awareness Month does not affect governmental finances.

Local Effect: None.

Small Business Effect: None.

Analysis

Current Law: Eight official commemorative days and three months are recognized in State law as shown in Exhibit 1. The Governor also must issue a proclamation each year encouraging citizens and other individuals to observe a moment of silence at 3 p.m. on Memorial Day to unite in remembrance and commemorate the heroic acts and efforts of Marylanders who have served and died in the U.S. armed forces.

Background: Sickle cell disease is an inherited, red blood cell disorder. Healthy red blood cells are round, and move through small blood vessels to carry oxygen to all parts of the body; in sickle cell disease, red blood cells become hard and sticky and look similar to C-shaped farm tools called a “sickles.” Sickle cells die early, which causes a constant shortage of red blood cells. Additionally, when traveling through small blood vessels, sickle cells may become stuck and clog blood flow, which can cause pain and other serious problems.

Sickle cell anemia refers to the most common form of sickle cell disease. It is a lifelong disease; people who have the disease are born with it. Sickle cell anemia affects millions of people worldwide and has no widely available cure, although treatments exist for the disease's symptoms and complications. In a small number of cases, bone marrow transplants may offer a cure.
