Analysis

Bill Summary/Current Law: The bill standardizes provisions of law regarding prohibitions on stays for most health occupations boards. Generally, before a board takes disciplinary action, it must give the individual against whom the action is contemplated an opportunity for a hearing. The board must give notice and hold the hearing in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act. Generally, a person aggrieved by a final decision of a board in a contested case, other than a disciplinary case, may appeal that decision to the board of review and take any further appeal allowed under the Administrative Procedure Act. A person aggrieved by a final disciplinary order of a board may not appeal to the Secretary of Health and Mental Hygiene or the board of review but may take a direct judicial appeal. A description of the bill's impact on each individual board and relevant current law can be found in Appendix 1.
