The organization is the result of a 2009 merger between Friends of the Family (1986) and Maryland Committee for Children (1945). MFN and its legacy organizations have a long history of working in partnership with State government to improve the lives of children from birth to age 5. Under contract to the State Department of Education, MFN currently coordinates the statewide network of 24 Family Support Centers, the statewide network of 12 Child Care Resource Centers, the Maryland Home Visiting Consortium, and the LOCATE: Child Care service that helps parents and employers find affordable, accessible care for their children. The Maryland Family Network does not either own or lease the space that it will renovate for Early Head Start. The Housing Authority of Baltimore City owns the space and will operate the Early Head Start program. Maryland Family Network is the primary funder of the program and has, on behalf of the Housing Authority, committed to raising the money for the renovations.
