Anne Arundel County - Property Tax Credit - Blind Individuals

This bill authorizes Anne Arundel County and a municipality in the county to grant, by law, a property tax credit against the county or municipal property tax imposed on $15,000 of the assessment of a dwelling house owned by a specified blind individual. The bill prohibits a person from receiving this property tax credit if the person also receives a specified property tax exemption for disabled veterans and surviving spouses. Anne Arundel County and a municipality in the county may provide, by law, for regulations and procedures and uniform processing of requests for the property tax credit and any other provision necessary to administer the tax credit.

The bill takes effect June 1, 2016, and applies to taxable years beginning after June 30, 2016.

Analysis

Bill Summary: A blind individual is defined as an individual who has a permanent impairment of both eyes that causes central visual acuity, with corrective glasses, of 20/200 or less in the better eye; or central visual acuity of more than 20/200 if there is a field defect in which the peripheral field has contracted so that the widest diameter of visual field subtends an angular distance no greater than 20 degrees in the better eye.

A dwelling house is defined as real property that (1) is the legal residence of a blind individual; (2) is occupied by no more than two families; and (3) includes the lot or curtilage and structures necessary to use the real property as a residence.

Current Law: Dwelling houses owned by specified blind individuals or their surviving spouses are provided a State and local property tax exemption of $15,000 from the total assessed value.

Local Fiscal Effect: Anne Arundel County property tax revenues may decrease by approximately $15,700 annually and the City of Annapolis property tax revenues may decrease by approximately $400 annually beginning in fiscal 2017 to the extent the property tax credit is granted. The estimate is based on the following:

- The State Department of Assessments and Taxation indicates that 156 real property tax accounts in Anne Arundel County currently receive the property tax exemption for blind individuals or surviving spouses of blind individuals (6 of these accounts are located in the City of Annapolis).
- It is assumed that 75% of these property tax accounts are for blind individuals.
- The Anne Arundel County real property tax rate is $0.923 per $100 of assessment ($0.552 within the City of Annapolis).
- The City of Annapolis real property tax rate is $0.649 per $100 of assessment.
- For fiscal 2016, the average taxable value for residential property in Anne Arundel County is $272,358; for properties that receive the Homestead Property Tax Credit, the average taxable value is $278,313.
