12 Preamble

13 WHEREAS, A 2007 effort by the Maryland State Police (MSP) to prioritize the hiring
14 of experienced forensic scientists led to the hiring of individuals for the MSP Scientist III 15 position with advanced starting salaries without regard to experience or tenure; and

16 WHEREAS, After 2007, new hires were returned to the base salary for the Forensic 17 Scientist III position causing a large, growing pay disparity between employees with the 18 same training, title, duties, and responsibilities; and

19 WHEREAS, The establishment of a minimum salary for certain forensic scientists 20 with a certain level of experience will narrow the aforementioned pay gap, help retain 21 experienced forensic scientists in whom much training has been invested by the State, and 22 increase the ability of MSP to attract experienced forensic scientists; now, therefore,
