Analysis

Current Law: Associate orphans' court judges for Howard County receive annual compensation of $10,000; the chief judge receives $11,500 annually. Each judge is also entitled to an expense allowance of up to $50 per month.

Article III, § 35 of the Maryland Constitution prohibits the salary or compensation of any public officer from being increased or diminished during the individual's term of office, except those whose full term is fixed by law in excess of four years. According to a letter from the Counsel to the General Assembly, dated January 17, 1978, salary increases that are to be implemented over a period of time are permissible if implemented before the beginning of the term.

Background: Under the Maryland Constitution, each county elects, for a term of four years, three judges to the orphans' court of their respective jurisdictions, with the exception of Montgomery and Harford counties, where a circuit court judge sits as the orphans' court. The orphans' courts are the State's probate courts. The courts supervise the handling of estates and also have certain jurisdiction over the guardianship of minors and their property. The salaries of orphans' court judges are paid by county governments and Baltimore City (except for Harford and Montgomery counties, because the State pays the salaries of circuit court judges).

Local Expenditures: County expenditures for orphans' court judges increase by a minimum of $3,000 in fiscal 2019 and by a minimum of $12,000 annually thereafter. This estimate assumes the salary increases take effect in January 2019 and does not include any impact on fringe benefits.
