 20 SUBSECTION; OR

21 C. AS PROVIDED IN SUBSECTION (D) OF THIS SECTION.

22 (2) Amendments under this section are subject to the following limitations:

23 (i) Except to the extent expressly permitted or expressly required
 24 by other provisions of this title, an amendment to the declaration may not change the 25 boundaries of any unit, the undivided percentage interest in the common elements of any 26 unit, the liability for common expenses or rights to common profits of any unit, or the 27 number of votes in the council of unit owners of any unit without the written consent of 28 every unit owner and mortgagee.

29 (ii) An amendment to the declaration may not modify in any way
 30 rights expressly reserved for the benefit of the developer or provisions required by any 31 governmental authority or for the benefit of any public utility.

1 (iii) Except to the extent expressly permitted by the declaration, an
2 amendment to the declaration may not change residential units to nonresidential units or 3 change nonresidential units to residential units without the written consent of every unit
4 owner and mortgagee.

5 (iv) Except as otherwise expressly permitted by this title and by the 6 declaration, an amendment to the declaration may not redesignate general common
7 elements as limited common elements without the written consent of every unit owner and 8 mortgagee.

9 (v) 1. Except as provided in subparagraph (vi) of this paragraph,
10 if the declaration contains a provision requiring any action on the part of the holder of a 11 mortgage or deed of trust on a unit in order to amend the declaration, that provision shall 12 be deemed satisfied if the procedures under this subparagraph are satisfied.

13 2. If the declaration contains a provision described in 14 subparagraph 1 of this subparagraph, the council of unit owners shall cause to be 15 delivered to each holder of a mortgage or deed of trust entitled to notice a copy of the 16 proposed amendment to the declaration.

17 3. If a holder of the mortgage or deed of trust that receives
18 the proposed amendment fails to object, in writing, to the proposed amendment within 60
19 days after the date of actual receipt of the proposed amendment, the holder shall be deemed 20 to have consented to the adoption of the amendment.

21 (vi) Subparagraph (v) of this paragraph does not apply to 22 amendments that:

23 1. Alter the priority of the lien of the mortgage or deed of 24 trust;

25 2. Materially impair or affect the unit as collateral; or

26 3. Materially impair or affect the right of the holder of the 27 mortgage or deed of trust to exercise any rights under the mortgage, deed of trust, or 28 applicable law.

29 [(2)] (3) (i) The council of unit owners may petition the circuit court
30 in equity for the county in which the condominium is located to correct:

31 1. An improper description of the units or common elements;
32 or

33 2. An improper assignment of the percentage interests in the 34 common elements, common expenses, and common profits.

35 (ii) The petition may be brought only if:

1                   1.     The unit owners, at a special meeting called for that
2 purpose, vote to petition the court to correct a specific error by a vote of at least 66 2/3
3 percent of the unit owners present and voting at a properly convened meeting;

4                   2.     The council of unit owners gives notice of the special
5 meeting to each mortgagee of record for the condominium; and

6                   3.     An opportunity is provided for the mortgagees to speak at 7 the special meeting upon written request to the council of unit owners.

8                   (iii)   The court may reform the declaration to correct the error or 9 omission as the court considers appropriate, if:

10                  1.     The council of unit owners gives notice of the filing of the 11 petition to each mortgagee and unit owner within 15 days of filing;

12                  2.     The council of unit owners files an affidavit with the court
13 stating that the conditions of subparagraph (ii) of this paragraph have been met;

14                  3.     The council of unit owners proves, by a preponderance of 15 the evidence, that there is an error or omission as provided in subparagraph (i) of this 16 paragraph;

17                  4.     Any mortgagee with an interest in the condominium is 18 permitted to intervene in the proceedings upon filing a motion to intervene as provided in 19 the Maryland Rules;

20                  5.     The reformation does not substantially impair the 21 property rights of any unit owner or mortgagee; and

22                  6.     The court issues an order of reformation.

23                  (iv)   A final order of reformation may be appealed by any party within 24 30 days of its issuance. An order of reformation may not be recorded until the appeal period
25 has lapsed or all appeals have been completed.

26                  [(3)] (4)     An amendment or order of reformation becomes effective on 27 recordation in the same manner as the declaration. If the condominium is registered with 28 the Secretary of State, the council of unit owners shall file a copy of the order of reformation
29 with the Secretary of State within 15 days of recordation.

30                  (d)   (1)   (i)   A declaration may provide for the suspension of the use of 31 parking or recreational facility common elements by a unit owner that is more than 60 days
32 in arrears in the payment of any assessment due to the condominium.

1                   (ii) If a declaration contains a suspension provision authorized
2 under subparagraph (i) of this paragraph, the declaration shall state that a suspension of
3 the use of common elements may not be implemented until the council of unit owners:

4                   1. Mails to the unit owner a demand letter specifying a time
5 period of at least 10 days within which the unit owner may pay the delinquent assessment
6 or request a hearing to contest the suspension; and

7                   2. If a unit owner requests a hearing to contest a suspension,
8 provides notice and holds a hearing in accordance with § 11-113(b)(2) and (3) of this 9 subtitle.

10                  (2) Notwithstanding the provisions of the declaration or bylaws, the council
11 of unit owners may amend the declaration to add or repeal a suspension provision
12 authorized under paragraph (1)(i) of this subsection by the affirmative vote of at least 60%
13 of the total eligible voters of the condominium under the voting procedures contained in the 14 declaration or the bylaws.

15                  SECTION 2. AND BE IT FURTHER ENACTED, That this Act shall take effect
16 October 1, 2024.
