HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION

2	Opposition to the People's Republic of China's Misuse of United Nations

Opposition to the People's Republic of China's Misuse of United Nations Resolution 2758 to Delegitimize Taiwan

- FOR the purpose of opposing the People's Republic of China's misuse of United Nations Resolution 2758 to delegitimize Taiwan; and generally relating to support of Taiwan.
- WHEREAS, The Republic of China (Taiwan) was one of the 51 original member states of the United Nations (UN) at its inception in 1945; and
- 8 WHEREAS, On October 25, 1971, the United Nations General Assembly (UNGA) 9 adopted Resolution 2758, which recognizes the People's Republic of China (PRC) as the 10 representative of the member state "China" in the UN; and
- WHEREAS, The sole purpose of Resolution 2758 was to address the question of which government would represent the seat in the UN for China and was never intended to address any other topic including those related to Taiwan's ultimate political status; and
- WHEREAS, The PRC frequently conflates Resolution 2758 with its "One China Principle" (OCP), which is a policy held by the Chinese Communist Party alleging that the PRC is the only sovereign nation using the name "China" and that Taiwan is an inalienable part of China; and
  - WHEREAS, PRC officials misrepresent Resolution 2758, claiming that the adoption of the resolution implies acceptance of the PRC's OCP including the PRC claims to Taiwan despite the fact that Resolution 2758 does not and was never meant to represent an international consensus regarding Taiwan and whether or not it is a part of the PRC; and
- WHEREAS, The PRC misleadingly claims that countries with a "One China Policy" have accepted and abide by the PRC OCP and has misused Resolution 2758 to influence 10 countries since 2016 to change their diplomatic recognition from Taiwan to the PRC; and

WHEREAS, The One China Policy of the United States does acknowledge the PRC's OCP; however, it affirms that: (1) the United States does not take a position on Taiwan's status and (2) this issue should be resolved peacefully by the people on both sides of the Taiwan Strait; and

WHEREAS, In 1982, the United States conveyed the Six Assurances to the Republic of China President Chiang Ching—kuo, including that the United States had not changed its stance on Taiwan's sovereignty, and with each successive presidential administration the Six Assurances have been reaffirmed; and

WHEREAS, The PRC has weaponized Resolution 2758 and the OCP to isolate and delegitimize Taiwan globally and to prevent its participation at the UN, UN–affiliated agencies, and other international organizations, including the International Civil Aviation Organization and Interpol; and

WHEREAS, Former U.S. officials have observed that the PRC manipulates Resolution 2758 to make false claims regarding Taiwan's status in order to undermine the international order and the international system; and

WHEREAS, The PRC's strategy of disseminating disinformation about the scope and purpose of Resolution 2758 is succeeding with some UN members refusing to support Taiwan's participation in UN entities, including the expulsion of Taiwan from the Central American Parliament after 20 years as a permanent observer and the routing of communications to Taiwan through the PRC; and

WHEREAS, U.S. Department of State officials have made statements making the following observations: (1) Resolution 2758 did not endorse, is not equivalent to, and does not reflect a consensus for China's OCP, a term that refers to the PRC's own position on Taiwan; (2) Resolution 2758 has no bearing on countries' sovereign choices with respect to their relationships with Taiwan; (3) Resolution 2758 did not constitute a UN institutional position on the ultimate political status of Taiwan; and (4) Resolution 2758 does not preclude Taiwan's meaningful participation in the UN system and other multilateral forums; and

WHEREAS, For the third time and for 2 consecutive years, most recently in October 2024, the U.S. Department of State sent a letter to state officials, city mayors, and Fortune 500 CEOs urging them to deepen their relationship with Taiwan in areas such as trade, education, investment, and tourism; and

WHEREAS, U.S. allies including Australia, Canada, the European Parliament, the Netherlands, and the United Kingdom have rejected the PRC's attempt to distort Resolution 2758 to exclude Taiwan from UN participation; and

WHEREAS, The PRC's weaponization of Resolution 2758 includes threats to Taipei that if Taiwan does not clarify UN member states' understanding of the resolution, Beijing might overturn the cross—Strait status quo; and

WHEREAS, The government of Taiwan appealed to the UNGA for greater inclusion at the 79th UNGA in September 2024 which featured the theme "Leaving no one behind: acting together for the advancement of peace, sustainable development and human dignity for present and future generations"; and

WHEREAS, The PRC's weaponization of Resolution 2758 has left behind Taiwan's 23.5 million people since 1971; now, therefore, be it
