Analysis

Current Law: Each political party must have a State central committee that is the governing body of the political party and may be composed of the members of the central committees of the counties during their terms in office. A principal political party must elect the members of a county central committee at a primary election. Except as otherwise provided under county-specific provisions for certain counties (including Baltimore County), the central committee for a county must consist of the number of members determined by the party's constitution.

For the Baltimore County Republican Party Central Committee, statute establishes that the committee consists of four members elected from each councilmanic district in Baltimore County.
