Senate Bill 443 (Senator Smith)
Judicial Proceedings

Trafficking Regulated Firearms - Felony Classification

This bill reclassifies – from a misdemeanor to a felony – the prohibition against transporting a regulated firearm into the State for the purpose of unlawfully selling or trafficking of the regulated firearm.

Fiscal Summary

State Effect: Any shift in cases from the District Court to the circuit courts, including fines imposed in these cases, is not expected to materially affect State finances, as discussed below.

Local Effect: Any shift in cases from the District Court to the circuit courts is not expected to materially affect local finances, as discussed below.

Small Business Effect: None.

Analysis

Current Law: A dealer or other person may not transport a regulated firearm into the State for the purpose of unlawfully selling or trafficking of the regulated firearm. A violator is guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction is subject to maximum penalties of imprisonment for up to 10 years and/or a fine of up to $25,000. Each violation is a separate crime.

State/Local Fiscal Effect: Changing crimes from misdemeanors to felonies means that (1) such cases are likely to be filed in the circuit courts rather than the District Court and

(2) some persons may eventually serve longer incarcerations due to more stringent penalty provisions applicable to some offenses for prior felony convictions.

The Judiciary advises that for the offense altered by the bill, in fiscal 2023, there was one filing in the District Court and four filings in the circuit courts, with no convictions, and in fiscal 2024, there were no filings or convictions. Accordingly, it is assumed that this bill shifts a minimal number of cases from the District Court to the circuit courts. It is not known whether such a prospective shift may spur more plea bargains and affect actual sentencing practices for this offense. Nevertheless, based on the data provided by the Judiciary, it is assumed that the bill does not materially affect State or local finances.
