Senate Bill 334

(Senators Waldstreicher and Smith)

Judicial Proceedings

Criminal Law - Crimes of Malicious or Fraudulent Burning - Prohibitions and Penalties

---

This bill prohibits a person from committing a “crime of malicious or fraudulent burning” that results in the death of or serious physical injury to a firefighter. A violator is guilty of a felony and subject to imprisonment for up to 10 years. A sentence imposed for a violation of the bill’s prohibition may be separate from and run consecutive to or concurrent with a sentence imposed for any crime based on the act establishing the violation.

Fiscal Summary

State Effect: Potential minimal increase in incarceration expenditures due to the bill’s penalty provision. The Judiciary and the Office of the Public Defender (OPD) can handle the bill’s requirements with existing budgeted resources, as discussed below. Revenues are not affected.

Local Effect: The bill does not materially affect local government finances or operations.

Small Business Effect: None.

Analysis

Bill Summary: “Crime of malicious or fraudulent burning” means a violation of:

- § 6-104 of the Criminal Law Article (malicious burning of personal property in the first degree);
- § 6-105 of the Criminal Law Article (malicious burning of personal property in the second degree); or

- § 6-106 of the Criminal Law Article (burning with intent to defraud).

The bill incorporates the definition of “serious physical injury” under § 3-201 of the Criminal Law Article.

Current Law:

Malicious Burning

A person may not willfully and maliciously set fire to or burn the personal property of another. A violator causing property damage of at least $1,000 is guilty of the felony of malicious burning in the first degree, which is punishable by imprisonment for up to five years and/or a maximum fine of $5,000. A violator causing less than $1,000 in property damage is guilty of malicious burning in the second degree, which is a misdemeanor punishable by imprisonment for up to 18 months and/or a maximum fine of $500.

Burning with Intent to Defraud

A person who sets fire to or burns property of any kind with the intent to defraud another is guilty of a misdemeanor and, on conviction, is subject to imprisonment for up to five years and/or a $5,000 maximum fine.

Serious Physical Injury

Section 3-201 of the Criminal Law Article defines “serious physical injury” as physical injury that:

- creates a substantial risk of death; or
- causes permanent or protracted serious (1) disfigurement; (2) loss of the function of any bodily member or organ; or (3) impairment of the function of any bodily member or organ.

State Expenditures: The bill is not expected to materially affect State incarceration expenditures or workloads for the Judiciary or OPD.

Department of Public Safety and Correctional Services

General fund expenditures may increase minimally as a result of the bill’s incarceration penalty due to more people being committed to State correctional facilities for longer periods of time. The number of people convicted of this proposed crime is expected to be minimal.

Judiciary

The Judiciary advises that any impact on its operations from the bill’s implementation should be minimal and can be absorbed with existing budgeted resources.

Exhibit 1 contains information for fiscal 2024 on the number of violations (charges) filed and convictions in the District Court and circuit courts for the offenses defined under the bill as a crime of malicious or fraudulent burning and the number of sentences imposed in the circuit courts for those offenses. The Judiciary and the Maryland State Commission on Criminal Sentencing Policy (MSCCSP) advise, respectively, that it was not possible to identify how many of the violations filed or convictions or sentences imposed in fiscal 2024 for a crime of malicious or fraudulent burning involved the death of or serious physical injury to a firefighter.

<sup>1</sup> A violation is a charge filed with the court. It is not a conviction, and one person may be associated with multiple violations.

Office of the Public Defender

OPD advises that the bill could result in new cases and require it to devote additional resources to existing clients charged with the new crime. Accordingly, OPD advises that the bill necessitates the hiring of one full-time assistant public defender, at a cost of $100,378 in fiscal 2026 and increasing to $137,209 by fiscal 2030. The Department of Legislative Services (DLS) advises that the bill is unlikely to warrant the hiring of an additional attorney, as any increase in OPD's workload is expected to be minimal and absorbable within existing resources.

DLS notes that any individual charged under the bill would already be facing a charge for an underlying crime under existing statute; thus, the bill would not require OPD to take on any new clients. The bill's impact to OPD, if any, would be attributable to having to defend a small number of existing clients against a new charge that arises out of the same alleged conduct that led to them being charged with a crime of malicious or fraudulent burning.
