Analysis

Bill Summary: The County Executive of Prince George's County must establish the membership of the review and response team, as specified, as well as the procedures and requirements applicable to the team, including (1) requirements for meetings of the review and response team and any subcommittees established by the review and response team; (2) confidentiality requirements; and (3) procedures related to the collection, utilization, sharing, and disclosure of information collected by the review and response team that are consistent with otherwise applicable privacy laws.

Each organization represented on the review and response team must enter into a memorandum of understanding, as specified, that identifies protocols and safeguards for the confidentiality of personally identifiable information and disaggregated data of youth at risk of imminent harm. The review and response team must maintain appropriate administrative, physical, and technical safeguards that protect the privacy, confidentiality, integrity, and availability of any information the review and response team obtains in compliance with the federal Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act and other relevant privacy laws and policies.

On request of the review and response team and as necessary to carry out the team's purpose and duties, the review and response team must be provided with access to (1) public data, records of service unitization history, and information relevant to an incident involving law enforcement that involves a youth at high risk of imminent harm and (2) personally identifiable information and records maintained by a State or local government agency, as specified. In general, all information and records acquired by the review and response team are confidential, exempt from disclosure under the Public Information Act, and not subject to subpoena, discovery, or introduction into evidence in any civil or criminal proceeding. Mental health and substance abuse treatment records are subject to additional limitations. Specified types of data and reports are public records/information. The bill authorizes access to and confidential use of a police record concerning a child by the review and response team.

In order for the review and response team to discuss individual youth at risk of imminent harm and other highly confidential and sensitive information and data, meetings of the review and response team must be closed to the public and are not subject to the Open Meetings Act. The meetings are also subject to specified confidentiality requirements for the disclosure of information.

Generally, before review of an individual case, the review and response team must contact the parents or guardians of the youth at risk of imminent harm and obtain their consent to begin review of the individual case and recommend or provide services for the youth. The bill establishes procedures and requirements for (1) obtaining consent of the parent or guardian before review of the individual case and (2) notification of the parent or guardian if the review and response team considers information without consent of the parent or guardian.

For purposes of the review and response team, a youth is at a high risk of imminent harm if the youth is at least age 7 and younger than age 18 and is the victim of gun violence, a witness to gun violence, or a family member of a victim of gun violence.

“Youth” means any person younger than age 18 who (1) resides in Prince George’s County; (2) attends or graduated from an elementary or secondary school in Prince George’s County; or (3) participates in or graduated from any youth program in Prince George’s County.

By January 1, 2027, and each January 1 thereafter, the review and response team must report to the General Assembly de-identified aggregate-level information on the youth that were served and connected to services and their associated risk factors. Before submitting the, the review and response team must allow each member of the team the opportunity to review the report to ensure that it aligns with the safeguards on data privacy and security.

A person who violates the bill’s provisions regarding meetings and the disclosure of information is guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction is subject to maximum penalties of imprisonment for 90 days and/or a $500 fine.

Current Law:

Maryland Behavioral Health Crisis Response System

The Behavioral Health Crisis Response System must (1) operate a statewide network utilizing existing resources and coordinating interjurisdictional services to develop efficient and effective crisis response systems to serve all individuals in the State, 24 hours per day and seven days per week; (2) provide skilled clinical intervention to help prevent suicides, homicides, unnecessary hospitalizations, and arrests or detention, and to reduce dangerous or threatening situations involving individuals in need of behavioral health services; and (3) respond quickly and effectively to community crisis situations.

Local Behavioral Health Authority

A local behavioral health authority (LBHA) is the designated county or multicounty authority responsible for planning, managing, and monitoring publicly funded mental health, substance-related disorder, and addictive disorder services. Each region in Maryland has an LBHA to assist the public in finding and accessing treatment and recovery for mental health and substance use disorders. In Prince George's County, the LBHA is part of the Prince George's County Health Department.

Local Fatality Review Teams

Under Maryland law, there are three types of local fatality review teams: local child fatality review teams (Title 5, Subtitle 7 of the Health-General Article); local drug overdose fatality review teams (Title 5, Subtitle 9 of the Health-General Article); and local domestic violence fatality review teams (Title 4, Subtitle 7 of the Family Law Article). Each county is required to have a child fatality review team (or a multicounty local team), while counties are authorized to establish a drug overdose fatality review team or a domestic violence fatality review team.

Confidentiality of Juvenile Records

In general, police and court records concerning a child are confidential, and their contents may not be divulged, by subpoena or otherwise, except by court order upon a showing of good cause or in certain circumstances relating to notification of a local superintendent or nonpublic school principal upon the arrest of a child for specified offenses. This prohibition does not restrict access to and the use of court records in court proceedings involving the child by personnel of the court, the State's Attorney, counsel for the child, a court-appointed special advocate for the child, or authorized personnel of the Department of Juvenile Services (DJS). Subject to certain exceptions, the restriction also does not prohibit access to and confidential use of police and court records of a child by DJS or in an investigation and prosecution by a law enforcement agency. Additional exceptions are specified in statute.

State Expenditures: The Office of the Public Defender (OPD) advises that the bill necessitates that the office hire four attorneys, one social worker, and one secretary to handle an increase in the number of Child in Need of Assistance cases as a result of the bill. OPD estimates costs for these positions at $537,228 in fiscal 2026, increasing to $729,078 by fiscal 2030. The Department of Legislative Services (DLS) disagrees that OPD's workload is significantly changed as a result of the bill. Thus, DLS advises that OPD can likely address any increase in workload with existing budgeted resources.
