

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF COLORED PEOPLE

Anne Arundel County Branch

"Freedom Fighters for a New Century"

Executive Committee

Jacqueline Boone Allsup,
MSN President

Antonio Downing
1st Vice President

Claudia Barber, Esq
2nd Vice President

Mary Dadone, PhD
Secretary

Ralph Thomas
Treasurer

Committee Chairs

Political Action
Steven Waddy

Armed Services & Veterans'
Affairs
Curtis Jones

Community Coordination
Skye Bailey

Criminal Justice/ Juvenile Justice
Rev. Ricky Jones Nelson
Esq.
Tryphena Ellis-Johnson

Education
Laticia Hicks

Finance
Neva Stansbury

Health
Rosalind-Kane

Labor & Industry
Tracy Parker Warren

Legal Redress
Rev. Stephen A. Tillett

Membership
Christine Davenport

Prison Branch
Lea Green

Religious Affairs
Apostle Larry Thomas

Youth Advisor
Rev. Marguerite Morris

BILL: HB005
TITLE: Hate Crimes - Use of any item or symbol to threaten or intimidate
NAACP POSITION: Support
HEARING DATE: 1/16/2020 1:00 P. M.
COMMITTEE: House Judiciary Committee
SPONSOR: Delegate Mark Chang

In 2017 the Maryland State Police reported that hate and bias incidents in Maryland surged 40 percent. Forty-three percent of those reported incidents were directed at African Americans.

The matter of hate crimes has touched Anne Arundel County deeply in the last two years and months. The county branches of the NAACP hear about these accounts first hand, as we are very often the first point of contact for a family victimized by acts of hate symbols intended to intimidate. On April 4, 2018, the 50th anniversary of MLK Jr.'s assassination, school officials found a Confederate flag in a truck bed parked at Chesapeake High School with a noose and a pair of dice with Confederate symbols hanging from the rear-view mirror of the vehicle.

This fall, a student at Chesapeake High School received a direct message via AirDrop with a confederate flag and a threat laced with a racial epithet. Days later, a toilet paper noose was found hanging in a restroom at the same school. "Kill All Blacks" was written on a counseling center sign-in sheet. Racial slurs have been carved on bathroom stalls.

Adults are also carrying out these acts. We have all heard by now of the two young men who hung a noose in the courtyard of Crofton Middle School in 2017. This year recruiting fliers for the KKK have been found peppering the driveways of north county neighborhoods more than once.

October 2020 an effigy was hung from a tree in Glen Burnie by a white male on a man of color property.

The governor's report on hate crime indicated an increase in Anne Arundel County. Hate Crimes and bias incidents appear to be concentrated in the northeastern part of the state of Maryland. Almost 45 % of all of the hate crimes in Anne Arundel County occurred in North Anne Arundel County. 31.1 % of all reporting occurred at an academic institution; elementary/secondary through college/university.

There is outspoken hatred in our county that must be uprooted; that is certain. NAACP branches along with many other groups across the state fight this battle daily. But until that mountainous initiative can be completed, our branch asks you to pass legislation that creates a strong legal deterrent for those considering committing such an act. Nooses and swastikas placed with the intent to intimidate is an act of harassment at best and it would not be too far afield to label it domestic terrorism.

We implore the House Judiciary Committee to vote favorably for Del. Chang's bill so that just consequences may be applied to those affixing symbols of hate crimes with the intent to intimidate.

Jacqueline Boone Allsup, President Anne Arundel County Branch NAACP
2nd Vice President MSC

P. O. Box 6210 Annapolis, Maryland 21401
(443) 883-5151
www.annearundelcountynaacp.org