I had an accident at work 3 1/2 years ago. I was a carpenter and loved it. I was shocked with 120V to the head. This left me with permanent sequelae including chronic pain, chronic fatigue, RLS and depression. After trying many medications with my doctor, none of them helped and some had horrible side effects. At that point life just isn't worth it anymore. I'm only 33 years old.

Then I gave kratom a try and it worked. So much so that I find myself having hope again to live a "normal" life. I'm not out of the woods yet, but I started doing activities again with family, seeing friends and caring for my aging mother. Kratom changed my life for the better and i am deeply grateful for it. I even think i could work again some day, but in the mean time i started doing volunteering, all thanks to kratom.
