

Chronic pain has followed me through out life. Due to always being in pain I naturally fell into an opioid addiction fueled by greedy doctors and a failing, overpriced medical system. Then to get off he opioids I had to take another opioid that I could barely afford. So once I got clean the pain never went away and eventually gradually got worse and worse. I was off of opiates for 8 years and Scared that the pain was temping me to fall back into the same cycle of doctors and pills and rehab. An information packet on kratom and it's benefits fell into my lap. At first it all sounded way to good to be true so I joined someone Facebook forums dedicated to this amazing plant. After talking with people and seeing positive post after postive post I decided to try it for my self. I was wowed my first dose and a new chapter of my life started without even realizing it. Life didn't seem to hurt as much and on top of the pain being better, I have more energy then ever ! I always wonder where I would be if I never found this life giving plant. Thank you kratom :)
