

I live in southern suburb of Pittsburgh. I discovered kratom about 3yrs ago thanks to you, hippy and at the time menthol. At the time I suffered from chronic foot and back pain. I had no insurance and was taking way to much ibuprofen for pain. I do security work so being on my feet a lot is unavoidable. Anyway, by watching you guys I was able to navigate my way through the kratom maze and find what works for me. In the beginning I did get sick a couple times until I figured out my dose but nothing more than throwing up and a banging headache. I don't do social media so I can't do anything there but I have written to gov Wolf and would gladly sign any petitions I would find.
