

To the Maryland General Assembly:

23 chromosomes + 23 chromosomes = 46 chromosomes from mom from dad new human

This is basic biology, this is science. It happens at conception. Those who deny this are science deniers.

In my layman's words, HB1171 says everyone has a right to make their own decisions. It sets no age limits. However, it obviously denies the unborn the right to make their own decision and I point out that all life forms struggle to survive, so don't think that just because they can't make a conscious academic decision they do not want to live.
