

Appropriations Committee
Hearing: Tuesday, January 24, 2023, 1pm

Dear Chair Barnes and Members of the Appropriations Committee,

As the incoming President of the Board of Trustees of the Walters Art Museum, I am writing to ask you to reject House Bill 116, "Trustees of the Walters Art Gallery - Collective Bargaining," filed by Delegate Robbyn Lewis.

HB 116 is unnecessary: there is no reason for the City of Baltimore's Labor Commissioner to be involved in the organizing activities of a group of workers who are not City employees. The museum's employees already have several different options available to them for securing a vote on unionization, from filing a petition to presenting a third-party election agreement for discussion. Our executive director has been unequivocal in her respect for their rights to consider a union—and in her openness to these pathways for employees to get to a vote.

But HB 116 is also concerningly broad—and certainly concerning to me as a Trustee and the incoming President. This legislation raises many more questions than it answers about the ongoing operation, funding, governance, and management of the museum. Much as we respect the desire of some museum employees to form a union, I respect Delegate Lewis' desire to support them. Yet I am not clear on how Delegate Lewis envisions the Trustees continuing to operate the Walters were it to be redefined as "a unit and instrumentality of the state and the city." Will the City be reimbursing the Trustees for the cost of repairs made to the museum's City owned buildings—but which have been paid for by the Trustees? Should we be planning to relocate the 30% of the collection that is owned by the Trustees and not by the City? And so on.

These are very relevant questions because among the essential roles of any nonprofit board of trustees are responsibilities such as fundraising—in our case for both funds and gifts to the collection—and fiduciary duties, which include understanding our liabilities. Indeed, as the next President of the Board, these responsibilities are already top of mind. But where we currently have clarity, HB 116 introduces great uncertainty. On top of which, there will be significant budgetary challenges for the museum as a result of fighting such legislation in court—budget challenges that will ultimately hurt the very employees Delegate Lewis seeks to help.

Please reconsider advancing this bill.
