Chesapeake Bay Foundation (CBF) SUPPORTS SB 880 which creates a task force to consider a joint jurisdictional management authority for water and wastewater utility management in the Baltimore metropolitan region.

Recent failures at Baltimore's Patapsco and Back River Wastewater Treatment plants and the discovery of E. coli bacteria in drinking water resulting in a boiled water order underscores the need to address operations and maintenance issues at these facilities. Indeed, the failures at the wastewater treatment plants resulted in discharges to surface waters well in excess of permit limits effectively reversing progress on the state's Watershed Implementation Plan under the Chesapeake Bay Blueprint for 2020 and 2021.

CBF supports the creation of the Task Force, specifically to address staffing, training, certification and management of facility workforces and the logistical and financial support that will be needed to retain a trained and certified workforce at these facilities into the future. Significant capital upgrades have been made through the Bay Restoration Fund allowing these plants to theoretically meet enhanced nutrient reduction standards relied upon to meet Bay cleanup goals. We cannot sacrifice those investments or the health of our public and ecological resources by allowing the system to spiral into disrepair. SB 880 ensures that the important conversations necessary to reform governance of the Baltimore water and wastewater utility systems move forward.

CBF urges the Committee's FAVORABLE report on SB 880.
