

My name is Aga Wilson and I am the founder and executive director of the #CanWeTalkAboutIt campaign that aims to break the silence about COVID-19 Vaccine injury and death. I am also a former United Nations employee, an a journalist with my own show where I interview world renowned doctors, scientists and experts on the COVID crisis and more.

We launched the Can We Talk About It a campaign more than a year ago and since then I have seen horrific damage, injury and death done to innocent people globally. I have been working with the injured for quite some time now and just by statistics we know that over 11 million injuries have been reported globally and over 70,000 deaths. This is a humanitarian crisis and gross violation of human rights!

I am still processing the reality of how many injuries we have seen and the absolute silence as well as censorship and gaslighting of the injured. What we have witnessed is unacceptable and the job that should be done by governments across the world has been left to be taken on by regular people who are willing to take the risk, lose their jobs and livelihoods, friends and family, and speak out about the tremendous damage that they have witnessed around them and in their work environment. When you see people suffering like this and being completely ignored you start wondering what is truly happening and why this issue has not been addressed by the proper people who are in charge of our health?

As fellow citizens and human beings it's our duty to recognize our sisters and brothers when they say that something is wrong, and the things that are happening to their health are happening repeatedly everywhere. This is not a coincidence!! We cannot let the the pharmaceutical companies get away with this without any consequences. How many people need to be injured or die, how many whistleblowers and experts speaking out does it take for our governments to open their eyes?

The most shocking part is the amount of cases of adverse events including sudden deaths that have been documented very well globally and still no one is paying attention to these incredibly high numbers or looking into the matter of the uptick in diseases and access deaths worldwide. After interviewing a German researcher and data analyst that took it upon him to look into the German health care system database, were each disease reported by a doctor is documented with international codes, he found there is an incredible uptick in over 200 diseases and skyrocketing numbers of sudden deaths. This is medical data that cannot be tampered with and that is considered as very credible.

He has further notified his government that something about these very worrying numbers. This is just one example of so many that doesn't add up. In the past when a drug has reported side effects in much smaller numbers, our governments have made sure to take the off the market. The big question is why this has not been done with the COVID-19 vaccines? The amount of red flags that accompany this particular vaccine are off the charts and it is every politicians, every physicians, every journalists, and every fellow human citizens, duty to stop the administration and mandates until we have more proof.

Tens of thousands of doctors scientists journalists and other professionals as well as activists have stood up across the world risking everything they have in order to speak the truth and solve this truly heartbreaking and devastating issue. The people victims of these shots have lost everything and many of them are not able to lead normal and dignified lives. More people will be harmed if we don't do our jobs and conduct proper science. The right thing to do is to stop the administration of the COVID-19 vaccine until we have further research to prove otherwise. I therefore ask you to consider your choice carefully as lives are at stake and we don't need to put more people at risk until we know the truth.
