

Testimony in SUPPORT of HB 691

Landlord and Tenant – Failure to Repair Serious and Dangerous Defects - Tenant Remedies
(Tenant Safety Act)

Senate Judicial Proceedings Committee

April 4, 2023

Dear Honorable Chair Smith and Members of the Committee,

CASA is pleased to support HB691, the Tenant Safety Act, with sponsor amendments only. CASA is the largest immigrant services and advocacy organization in Maryland, and in the Mid-Atlantic region, with a membership of over 120,000 Black and Latino immigrants and working families. Our mission is to create a more just society by building power and improving the quality of life in working-class and immigrant communities. We envision a future where our members stand in their own power, our families live free from discrimination and fear, and our diverse communities thrive as we work with our partners to achieve full human rights for all.

For nearly forty years, CASA has employed grassroots community organizing to bring our communities closer together and fight for justice, while simultaneously providing much-needed services to these communities, helping to ensure that low-income immigrants are able to live rich and full lives. CASA member-led tenant associations are increasing in number and in their power. Our grassroots organizing has created safer housing for some of our members in communities such as White Oak in Montgomery County. Our Housing Legal team has also been working closely with members facing uninhabitable living conditions who have brought cases against their unresponsive landlords. 10 CASA members successfully filed individual rent escrow cases against their landlord for issues that were complex-wide. From rodent infestation to water intrusion concerns. With the help of CASA's housing legal team, these members even received monetary compensation for their landlord's negligence. These were 10 individual rent escrow cases that our legal team represented. These cases, all for the same reason, resulted in over 12 different court appearances. We know that many more renters have sufficient claims to file rent escrow but do not.

HB 691, the Tenant Safety Act is key legislation that ensures tenants, facing dangerous housing conditions, have access to collectively file for rent escrow. As current law stands, many more tenants are suffering from uninhabitable living conditions than are filing for rent escrow. For many, the prospect of bringing an individual lawsuit raises insurmountable fear of retaliation and abuse by unscrupulous landlords. For others, the filing fee and time missed from work are infeasible on a lean budget. For others still, the intimidating prospect of facing off against landlords and judges chills their pursuit of a remedy. These factors help to explain the paltry numbers of rent escrow actions filed by individual renters each year.

HB0691 addresses such obstacles by introducing a group filing procedure to the rent escrow law (Real Property § 8-211). By allowing tenants to join their interests together, this bill would have an enormous impact on tenants’ ability to organize quickly and efficiently to compel landlords to make potentially life-saving repairs. HB0691 would enable a single tenant to file a rent escrow case about building and unit conditions that other tenants with the same landlord facing similar conditions on the same property could join. Moreover, the bill ensures landlord accountability by enabling tenants to seek damages and attorney’s fees from negligent landlords who refuse to make necessary repairs to uninhabitable conditions. HB0691 mirrors an existing procedure in New York City called the “group HP process,” which routinely supports tenants in addressing harmful building conditions quickly and collectively in a summary process. Our organization supports the Tenant Safety Act because we believe Maryland renters deserve the same opportunity to build power for better housing.

1. HB0691 supports tenant organizing for repairs to conditions that threaten life, health and safety

HB0691 facilitates tenants in demanding necessary housing improvements that would benefit all Marylanders, renters and homeowners alike. The bill allows a group of tenants living on the same premises with the same landlord to ask the Court to order the landlord to make repairs to serious threats to life, health or safety. In individual habitability actions, tenants face a massive power imbalance when seeking necessary repairs from their landlords. In response to an individual escrow filing, landlords can, and do, refuse to act or refuse to extend a tenant’s lease. Landlords can also easily harass individual tenants, file an eviction, or unilaterally lock the tenant out, despite the fact that it is illegal to do so. In providing a group option for seeking repairs through the courts, HB0691 reduces the likelihood of intimidation of individual tenants and ensures that those living in truly threatening housing conditions will have a fair shot at compelling negligent landlords to act in the interest of life, health and safety.

2. HB0691 gives tenants more power to compel repairs by ensuring that tenants and courts can hold negligent landlords accountable

As it stands, the only remedies available to tenants that file rent escrow for repairs are rent abatement, distribution of escrow funds or an injunction 90 days after a court finding that the conditions complained of by the tenant exist. These remedies alone, however, have proven unavailing with numerous negligent landlords. There are also limited legal services available to support low-income tenants pursuing rent escrow, which means that tenants often must file on their own or forgo filing altogether. HB0691 strengthens the remedies available to tenants and ensures that tenants can hold landlords responsible for negligence and delay in a way that fully accounts for the harm they suffer. First, by providing groups of tenants with the opportunity to file together, tenants will be able to hold landlords accountable for the repairs they are already legally required to make. Second, the bill also codifies the already-existing implied warranty of habitability and clarifies an individual tenant's right to enforce it. Landlords are currently required to ensure their properties are suitable for human habitation, but negligent landlords often freely collect rent without being held to this basic, common-sense standard. HB0691 provides an important tool to hold these negligent landlords accountable. Finally, the attorney's fees provision increases the likelihood that tenants will be able to avail themselves of legal services, as they will be able to enlist attorneys whose practices depend upon the ability to recoup reasonable fees. Landlords are usually represented by attorneys in these matters, so this provision helps level the playing field.

3. HB0691 promotes judicial economy by allowing tenants to address building or complex-wide conditions issues in a single case

HB0691 also has the added benefit of allowing for the resolution of tenants' conditions issues with the same landlord and increasing access to justice overall. Currently, it is difficult for a group of tenants to bring an action against a landlord together. It is functionally impossible to bring an escrow case on behalf of a group of tenants because class actions are not permitted in District Court while rent escrow cases are within the exclusive jurisdiction of the District Court. While a joinder of tenants may be possible in some cases, it is not common in the current practice of the District Court. Instead, tenants on the same premises with the same landlord are generally required to file individual actions, with each tenant paying a filing fee and drafting a separate complaint. HB0691 would explicitly provide a mechanism for tenants to raise related issues and conditions in a single, streamlined case in court, and provide tenants with better access to justice – a change that simply makes more sense. Sponsor Delegate Vaughn Stewart has attempted to address concerns raised by the Judiciary and the Maryland Multi-Housing Association through a number of amendments. We support amendments offered by Delegate Stewart but urge the Committee to reject any further weakening of the bill.

CASA is a member of the Renters United Maryland coalition and asks that the Committee issue a report of FAVORABLE on HB 691 with sponsor amendments only.
