

Testimony SB0424

Requiring public works projects to use materials that adhere to a new and nebulous set of criteria is certain to increase both cost and time to completion. Given the woeful state of our public infrastructure, heaping additional costs and complications atop projects is untenable.