

BILL NO: House Bill 482
TITLE: Criminal Injuries Compensation Board - Victims of Nonfatal Strangulation
COMMITTEE: Judiciary
HEARING DATE: February 6, 2024
POSITION: SUPPORT

Among other things, House Bill 482 would require that non-fatal strangulation forensic examination expenses be paid for through the Criminal Injuries Compensation Board. The Women's Law Center supports HB 482 because strangulation is an indicator of lethality in domestic violence.

Survivors of strangulation are 750% more likely to become a victim of domestic violence homicide. After a strangulation attempt there are numerous medical risks that must be evaluated by a medical provider since most are invisible injuries including damage to the interior neck anatomy, lack of oxygenation, and an increased risk for strokes that can last for months after the assault. HB 482 specifies that "strangulation" includes strangulation that is not related to rape, a sexual offense, or sexual abuse. This is important as not all nonfatal strangulation occurs in only sexual assaults or offenses. It is a common occurrence in non-sexual assault intimate partner violence.

Every survivor of a strangulation should seek medical attention, even when there is no immediate visible evidence of the strangulation. There are many and possible fatal consequences. The ability to pay for that evaluation should not be a barrier to treatment and that is what HB 482 addresses.

For these reasons, the Women's Law Center supports HB 482 and asks for a favorable report.
