To Whom this may concern:

I am writing on behalf of my support of allowing grocery stores to sell wine and beer. Having lived in Anne Arundel County for 40 years, I am frustrated I must drive to Virginia in order to shop for wine at Trader Joes. I have travelled to California, North Carolina, Arizona and many other states which allow for beer and wine to be sold at grocery stores. The liquor stores will continue to profit with alcoholic beverages. When I prepare a meal that requires wine it is an inconvenience to have to grocery shop and then stop again for the wine. I have never understood what the issue is. I fully support Anne Arundel passing this bill. I can then put all of my money into the county in which I live, rather than another state. Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Nola M. Meyers
