

I am flabbergasted that this legislature is even considering the construction of a natural gas plant in Maryland. This is a resounding backward step in the energy transition, a contribution to the desecration of our environment, and an overall terrible idea. It is blatantly wasteful to be spending taxpayer dollars on fossil fuel construction, when cheaper, more effective and more sustainable energy sources are available.