God's work. Our hands.

Testimony Prepared for the Finance Committee on
Senate Bill 750
February 20, 2025
Position: Favorable

Madam Chair and members of the Committee, thank you for the opportunity to support the dignity of human effort by acknowledging the human right to organize and bargain collectively. I am Lee Hudson, assistant to the bishop for public policy in the Delaware-Maryland Synod, Evangelical Lutheran Church in America. We are a faith community with three judicatories in every part of our State.

Our community supports the human rights of workers, to include a right to organize and bargain collectively in the interest of fair wages and safe and just work conditions.

A 2017 message among us concerning human rights as principle and instrument, affirmed a 1999 ELCA statement about justice in the oikos, the economy. Among the pillars of economic justice is, (t)he principle of participation (meaning) all are entitled to be heard and to have their interests considered when decisions are made. Support for the right to organize and bargain is in the written record of the predecessor bodies of our church going back at least to the 1930s; it is in the 1948 United Nations Universal Declaration of Human Rights; and it has been law in the United States since 1935.

Our community supports a right to organize and bargain by workers, and as we earlier supported the similar Senate Bill 166, we do so again for Senate Bill 750. Establishing a protocol that gives employees of the State's higher education system the right to bargain collectively meets a criterion for a just economy, we believe. We encourage your favorable report.

Lee Hudson
